FIRE HORROR.

Several Lives Lost by the Burning of a Convent School.

Some of the Sisters Had to Leap from Windows and Were Fatally Hurt.

NYACK, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Four lives were lost by the burning of the St. Agnes convent for children, five miles south of here, early this morning. Four sisters jumped from windows, receiving fatal injuries, and two will probably die. The four who jumped remained too long, and the flames cut off their escape by way of the stairs. The following is a partial list of the dead and injured:

Dead—Theresa Murphy, 16, burned; Jane, servant, 72, burned; Helen Brown, 6, died of fright; Emma Macken, 4, same.

Injured—Sister Ignatius, concussion of spine, badly burned, may die; Sister Marie, concussion of spine, probably fatally burned; Sister Agnes, may die; Sister Bertram, concussion of spine; Sister Cordeleia, arm broken; Sister Caroline, same; Sister Sienna, shock; Anna Shea, infant, 12, hip broken.

The fire at 8 o'clock on the third floor. Nearly 300 occupants were in the rooms on this floor, and the dormitories were lighted with kerosene lamps. There is little doubt that the fire was caused by the explosion of one of these lamps. It spread rapidly. At the time of the discovery the fire had made such progress that the sisters could not awaken the hundreds of children in their care, marshal them in order and march them from the building, as was their practice at fire drills.

Although the service of the fire apparatus from neighboring pieces had been promptly rendered, the engines arrived too late to save life and property.

The asylum held about 1,000 children. It was a long, frame, three stories high.

TREACHEROUS FILIPINOS.

War Department Receives Information of Unreliability.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—News has been received from the Philippines showing treachery by the natives who have been trusted and placed in prominent positions by the Americans. It however, occasions no surprise at the war department, as recent developments have convinced the officials it will be folly to look for loyalty among the natives at this time. Secret Service Root accepts the situation as another proof of more troops being needed in the Philippines. It is believed the reports will have the tendency to make the policy of the Americans much less lenient.

JOINT DEBATE.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 28.—A gentleman in this city who is thoroughly responsible, says that he will defend the expenses for a joint debate between the following Democratic speakers, which debate shall take place in this city about the last of September: W. J. Bryan vs. John Young Brown, William Goebel against P. P. Johnston, Senator J. C. S. Blackburn against Theodore Hallam; Congressman Settle against ex-Congressman Owens. The debates are to be conducted on the old style, and he is to defray the expenses of publishing the speeches in full of Bryan and Brown as advertising matter in a daily newspaper of general circulation. The gentleman proposes to deposit the necessary money with a Lexington bank as a guarantee.

OHIO DEMOCRATS.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—Delegates are arriving at Zanesville for the Ohio Democratic convention, which meets in that town tomorrow. State committees will be selected at district meetings in the morning. The platform will endorse Bryan and the Chicago platform and denounce imperialism. There will be many contests before the credentials committee.

WEATHER AND RAINFALL.

The thermometer went to 100 degrees in the shade Saturday afternoon, but yesterday the maximum was 91. The rainfall was .89 of an inch.

EXPERTS

Several Writing Judges are Heard in the Dreyfus Case Today

AND THEY GREATLY CONFLICT

Court and People Are Warying of This Class of Evidence, Which is Not Reliable

DU CLAM TO BE EXAMINED

RENNES, France, Aug. 28.—The first session of the fourth week of the Dreyfus court-martial was opened at the usual hour this morning. The session was given over to handwriting experts, two of whom testified that Dreyfus was not guilty of the writing of the bordereau, but that Esterhazy was the author of the documents. The experts seem to be desirous of settling the case by a trial. The first session was caused when M. Charavay took the stand. He was one of the experts at the original trial who then testified that Dreyfus wrote the bordereau. Charavay furnished a great surprise when he announced today that he had now reached exactly the opposite opinion. Said he: "After examining the samples of Dreyfus' handwriting given me in 1894, I found resemblance between them and the writing of the bordereau. Later I saw some of Esterhazy's writing and when I had examined this thoroughly I changed my mind as to the author of the bordereau. Now I believe that Esterhazy and not Dreyfus wrote it." This statement was delivered impressively and caused a sensation in the court room. Expert Pellet followed Charavay with similar testimony, saying he was sure the bordereau was in Esterhazy's handwriting. Expert Coulard denied that Esterhazy wrote the bordereau, but admitted, in reply to a question by Domingo, that he had a facsimile pen and there were some words in the bordereau not right he traced. Varnari, another expert, declared Esterhazy did not write the bordereau. Then Court adjourned for today. The conflicting evidence has the effect of discrediting all expert testimony.

RENNES, France, Aug. 28.—Jouanet, president of the Dreyfus court-martial, today consented to have Paty Du Clam, who is alleged to be sick in Paris, examined by a special commission. M. Jouanet also announced that Desfray, who resigned the portfolio of war in the Du Puy cabinet last May, would testify tomorrow.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Henry Mimms Was a Surprised Darkey This Morning.

When the robbery case against Henry Mimms and Jim Ellis, colored, was called in the police court this morning, Mimms was somewhat surprised to receive an invitation from Judge Sanders to take the witness stand. He was asked if he had ever been in the penitentiary, and replied that he had not. He was then asked if he had ever been arrested before, to which he replied that he had lots of times.

The court then read a warrant issued against Mimms, alias Chas. Wilson, here last February on information furnished by Marshal McNamee, of Kuttawa, charging him with breaking into the house of Norman Lockhart at Henderson, and stealing $250 worth of goods.

Judge Sanders stated he was remonstrated turning Mimms over to the Henderson officers. The prisoner admitted that he was the same man, but claimed that he came clear. It appears that there was a judgment pending against him in the police court here at the time, also, which was suspended when he was turned over to the Henderson office on condition that he stay away from Paducah.

There is a printer named Monroe who is alleged to have witnessed the robbery for which Ellis and Mimms were arrested, taking two dollars, from Will Mosely. He informed Judge Sanders soon after the occur rope, that he saw the darkies get the money, but the police have since been unable to locate him. The case against the defendants was continued until tomorrow morning.

AT THE PARK.

A new play tonight will be presented, "Claim 76" is a realistic reproduction of western life, full of romance and fun.

Special feature of the performance will be a triple specialty by Miss Farrell and Messrs. Castello and Malone.

Two large and appreciative audiences witnessed yesterday's performance.

PURYEAR'S COURT.

Horace Powell, of Marshall county, will be tried this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner Puryear on a charge of breaking into the postoffice at Calvert City last February.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Fair tonight; Tuesday fresh winds.

CONSTABLE BARNES FINED.

He "Toted" a Pistol Out of His Ballwick Saturday.

Constable A. Barnes, of Marshall county, was in Parkin's saloon Saturday night with a pistol concealed in his pocket. Officer Colyer was apprised of it and went to him. Barnes admitted having the pistol, but claimed that he was a constable. He was arrested and this morning was arraigned in the police court on a charge of carrying concealed a deadly weapon. He said he had it, and was fined $25 and sent to jail for 10 days. Judge Sanders said he disliked to have to assess the fine, but he was the only thing left for him to do. No officer has a right to carry a concealed weapon outside of his own ballwick except in the immediate discharge of his duty. When the law was read the Marshall county constable tried to claim that he was over in McCracken looking for a negro, but the judgment was allowed to stand.

This case demonstrates the necessity for men elected to enforce the laws to know something about them. The constable will appeal to Governor Bradley for a pardon, but as the latter once refused a Geneva county officer fined her for a similar offense under similar conditions, his chances do not seem to be very good.

BROWN IN WARREN

Valiant Old ex-Governor Pays His Respects to Opposition.

The Truth About the Effort to Get Him to Enter the Contest at Louisville.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., August 28.—Hon. John Young Brown, candidate for governor on the third ticket, opened his campaign here Saturday afternoon before a large crowd. Excursions were run into the city from the surrounding counties. Captain Ed L. Hines, nominee for secretary of state on the anti-Goebel ticket, introduced Mr. Brown at 1:15 o'clock in the circuit court room, which was crowded to the doors. Governor Brown was exceedingly bitter in denouncing the Goebel election law, and was frequently cheered. Mr. Brown said he was told that he was locked up. This morning the case was called against him in the police court, and continued until Wednesday. He is about 25 years old, and had been working as a farmer. He was committed to jail without bond.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Mayor Lang has called the council to meet tonight in called session. Prof. H. F. Lyon, one of the census enumerators, and the only one whose report was not in, returned yesterday and gives his list at about 1,800, the number estimated in last week's article.

The contract for completing the pumping station of the sewerage will be considered, also the appointment of Officer Frank Simeddy as overseer of the chancery, and Officer Etter a member of the regular force.

YOUNG MANIAC.

Eddie Gordon Suddenly Becomes Insane, Near Sharpe.

Attempted to Kill His Parents—Overpowered by a Preacher.

Eddie, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Frank Gordon, a well-known farmer of near Sharpe, Marshall county, suddenly became a raving maniac last week, and now has to be controlled by sheer force. There is no known cause for his sudden derangement, as he has not been ill, and there is no trace of hereditary insanity in the family.

Then they asked Brown what were his relations with the Courier-Journal. Brown said in reply Will Haldeman had the grip on the situation and that in his opinion nothing could be done to save the party.

McChord said he would go and see certain parties in hope that something might be done. Brown said he told McChord "If the Courier-Journal is sincere in wishing for Democratic success and Bryan's success, it would be better for it to come back into the party with a victory than with defeat."

Another son crawled out a rear window and ran over to the house of Rev. J. M. Pace, who has hastily run over and overpowered the boy before the latter knew of his presence.

He will probably be taken to the asylum immediately. He has to be watched continually and prevented from getting hold of anything with which to injure those around him. He still threatens to kill the members of his family.

He closed the incident by saying he had told the two that he would accept the nomination if a clean, honest majority of the delegates in the convention nominated him, but that he would never accept a fraudulent nomination. But he had not asked for it and would not take it unless he had done for him. He also said Woodson owed him a debt of gratitude, but that if Woodson and McChord were now to be used as witnesses against him, he only wanted them to speak the truth.

MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1899.

The Taylor and Brown buttons are what give the Goebelites conviction fits.

Mr. Bryan continues to say that the silver question will be the issue of the next presidential campaign. Is Mr. Bryan the Democratic party? It would seem he thinks so.

The state would be all right politically if it was not for the fact that Lexington and Covington are big parts of the state. Nothing good it seems can come from either of those places.

"You can search me," was what Mr. Goebel said when charged with "locking" a dagger while at Mayfield. The remark was said, most likely, if said at all, after disarray had occurred.

The Goebel campaign is the opening skirmish of the Whitney, Croker, Gorman and Harrity forces. That the Goebel platform induces Bryan and his cause in national politics really counts for nothing. Gorman himself and Tammany, too, did that in 1896.

The Democracy of this country shouldn't be too strong on the "Holt" they have on the representative's race. It has not been so many years since this country was represented in the legislature by a Republican, and history may repeat itself.

The Goebel faction in Kentucky is saturated with what Bryan regarded in 1896 as political poison. It is the party of McKinley Democrats. And besides its political infidelity, it is morally rotten. What Tammany hall is to New York City, that is the Goebel faction to the state of Kentucky.

The Dreyfus trial may last twenty days longer, say some of the French correspondents. Where will the court find enough liars to occupy this time? It has been thought for a week about all the French generals had been on the witness stand. Are some of the decapitated ones to be brought back home?

The Ohio Democratic state convention meets tomorrow at Zanesville. A full ticket is to be chosen and the opinion is general that McLean, the Cincinnati Enquirer publisher, will be chosen for governor on the first ballot. The delegation is almost entirely an unstructured one, most singularly, though there are several candidates for all the offices.

There has been much speaking throughout the state today, representatives of all the tickets being upon the stump. The Goebelites, it is safe to say, in opening their mouths did so to only put their feet in the opening. But it takes the gong to make the canvass interesting. There would be no cause for fire if there was not the Goebelites to furnish the game.

Withdrawing also, and explains that Mr. Wheeler's tactics were attacks on the ministers who denounced Goebel's record, his defense of Goebel for killing Sandford, which was a new version, almost entirely, and an intimation, if not direct charge, that the public school superintendents are corrupt and have been bought by the school book publishers and that the teachers are as culpable as the superintendents—assaults on character—of which the Post rightly says: "The Danville Advocate is right; Mr. Wheeler should be taken from the stump, and so should Blackburn and Pease, and a number of other orators of the Goebel school, on whose trail the Goebelites stenographer is camping."

A QUESTIONABLE TICKET.

The Tribune Banner, of Bedford, Ky., a Democratic paper that carries the Goebel ticket at the head of its columns, with an interrogation point after every name, indicating a question as to its character and legitimacy, says in its last issue:

"The other day we received a letter from an old friend asking us to take the interrogation marks from the names on the Democratic ticket, and to render hereby, not perfunctory, support to the ticket. We will do so just as soon as we hear one self-respecting orator say the Louisville convention was entirely on the square, and that Messrs. Stone and Goebel were entitled to all the delegates given them by the committee on credentials."

THEN AND NOW.

Commenting on the Goebel-Sandford tragedy on April 10, 1895, the Courier-Journal three days later said:

"It would be profitless to moralize over the Covington tragedy. Such barbarism may be expected as long as lawmakers and professedly law-abiding citizens violate the law by walking the streets prepared to do murder; as long as 'politics' is a mania which incites its victims to personal criminalization, personal vituperation and personal violence."

Goebel, the lawmaker, violates the law by "walking the streets prepared to do murder," and with his politics seems to be a mania which incites him to personal criminalization, personal vituperation and personal violence." And yet the Courier-Journal has avowed to elect Goebel.

POOR AUTHORITY.

Hon. Henry Watterson, the distinguished editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal says that "The election of Mr. Goebel as governor of Kentucky is as certain as anything on this side of the unknown." It will be remembered that Col. Watterson, in 1892, said that if the Democratic party nominated Mr. Cleveland for president it would be walking through a slaughter house into an open grave. And that in 1896 he said that Palmer and Buckner, the nominees of the gold standard Democrats, would poll 80,000 votes in Kentucky. The people know the result in both cases. Since the colonel has predicted the election of Mr. Goebel his opponents need have nothing to fear. The defeat of the Louisville nominee is now assured beyond a reasonable doubt.

THE GOEBEL CAMPAIGN

Yesterday's Louisville Dispatch contains a correct account of the Goebel-Sandford killing at Covington, the report the Courier-Journal published at the time of the sad occurrence. The Dispatch also prints some of the later day versions of the killing, which show how forgetful of facts or careless some people are with the truth. The Dispatch's publication makes very interesting reading just at the present time and those who are hunting for the truth would do well to read this issue of that paper.

The Lexington Leader comments upon the request of Editor Sommers, of the Elizabethtown News, that Judge Redwine be taken from the stump as an advocate of the Goebel ticket, and asks this pointed question: "If Redwine is all that Mr. Sommers and other Democrats say he is, how can they ask decent people to support a ticket produced in a convention dominated by such a man and such methods?" It is party fealty, don't you know, disgusting though it be.

When a newspaper says the agents of the L. & N. "are so persuasive" why don't that same paper tell how it knows this. If it has been tempted that is positive evidence, but if it has only hearsay testimony then it should know that this is not admissible evidence in any kind of court. Of course a man or a newspaper has the privilege to say whatever it chooses, but the truth is the only thing convincing.

GOEBEL ABUSE OF PULPIT.

The Democratic party in the state will be broken up with entertaining the speakers which are to come into the state from other states. The Goebel papers say they are to come by hundreds, but that matters not, they will not be able to do any good. The die has been cast, and Goebel is not to be the next governor of the state. Honest politics are preferred in this state to party politics.

Why have not the Brown men, who claim to be the straight Democrats of the state, as much right to ask the Goebelites to step aside and save the party from defeat as the Goebelites have to ask the Brownites to do the stepping out? Of course this is not the Sun's fight, but the paper would like to know the why in this little difference of opinion between the two wings of the wrecked Democratic party.

Saturday's Louisville Post had an editorial devoted exclusively to Congressman Chas. K. Wheeler. The Post takes from the Danville Advocate, one of Goebel's strong supporters, an extract which says: "We are confident that Mr. Wheeler did not cause of Democracy no good, and it does not change his tactics the demand for the retirement of Mr. Redwine from the stump will be supported by a call for Mr. Wheeler's withdrawal also." And explains that Mr. Wheeler's tactics were attacks on the ministers who denounced Goebel's record, his defense of Goebel for killing Sandford, which was a new version, almost entirely, and an intimation, if not direct charge, that the public school superintendents are corrupt and have been bought by the school book publishers and that the teachers are as culpable as the superintendents—assaults on character—of which the Post rightly says:

"The Danville Advocate is right; Mr. Wheeler should be taken from the stump, and so should Blackburn and Pease, and a number of other orators of the Goebel school, on whose trail the Goebelites stenographer is camping."

With those who are closest to the head of the machine.

Brown, with his record for party loyalty, for devotion to principle, for faithfulness in every public trust, has been assailed simply because he will not bow down to the machine.

The ministers, if you will, have not yet consented to the czarship of Goebelism. For that they are maligned by the Goebel fuglemen.

TRUST PROMOTER

Breckinridge News: Goebel is the greatest trust promoter in the country. He would compel every man in the state who has a vote to cast it for him so he could control all the railroads, corporations and business in general, to be run according to Goebel's ideas.

THE ALABAMA.

One of America's Most Powerful Vessels is to be Tested.

Something About the Great War Engine Soon to Enter Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—From the yards of the Cramp company the battleship Alabama, the most powerful vessel of that class in the American navy, will go out today on a builder's trial trip. This voyage will last three or four days.

The trial run will take place off the Delaware Capes and is intended to show how well the new battleship steams, whether her engines work well and, approximately, what her speed is.

NEW ORLEANS EXCURSION

Twenty-one New Engines Made for This Division of the Road.

A FEW OTHER RAILROAD NOTES

Yesterday two fine engines arrived for service on the Illinois Central between Louisville and Memphis, and will be kept in the round house here.

They are Nos. 21 and 22, and are among the finest locomotives made, having every modern appliance, and being convertible from freight to passenger engines. Among other things the sand is applied by means of air.

The engines are handsome, and Master Mechanic Curley reports that there will be 21 of them used out of Paducah. Eleven of these will be run between Paducah and Central City, and the remaining ten from Paducah to Memphis. This will of course leave many of the smaller engines useless on this division, and it is reported that they will be taken south for use in New Orleans. One of the new locomotives went north this morning.

Yesterday morning there were six sections of the north bound passenger train Fulton at one time, all from New Orleans. The excursions were going in all directions, and it is estimated that there were 3500 of them in all. One section of the train only came through Paducah, the others going to St. Louis, Chicago and other points.

COUNTY ROADS.

Over $10,000 Expended on Them Since May 16.

There Are Yet Fifty Miles to Repair—Can't Finish This Summer.

County Judge Tully returned Saturday evening from a tour of the county roads and reports the work done on them to be very good. In all 150 miles of the roads have been rebuilt or repaired, and the total cost has been $10,000. It was estimated that $15,000 would be required, and there are yet 50 miles to repair. Judge Tully does not think these 50 miles can be repaired this year before wet weather sets in. Work began May 15, and the average cost was $50 a mile, although in some places, the cost was $1,200 a mile. Many new bridges and culverts have been built, and the farmers are all well pleased with the increase in facilities for travel in McCracken county.

FRANK STULL'S STORY.

He Had Some Peculiar Things on His Person.

Frank Stull, colored, was arrested on market today for using insulting language towards another negro. When he was searched two puzzle locks and what appeared to be a $50 bill, were found on his person. After investigation it was learned that the bill was a state warrant from Tennessee, and had been paid and canceled. Stull said he had been sick for sometime, and sent another negro with $1.50 for some medicine, and the negro failed to get it. When Stull discovered this, he used some very improper language, for which Judge Sanders this morning fined him $5 and costs. The prisoner is a railroad negro.

—Justice Little had a big court there, being about 75 cases on the docket. None of them was of unusual importance most being garnishments and attachment cases.

—A number of the Court street women this afternoon waived examination before Justice Winchester on charges of keeping bawdy houses, and were held to answer.

A BAD MESS.

Judge Sanders Checks the Career of One Wayward Girl.

This morning Allie Davis and W. C. Cosby, Walter McConnell and Jim Taylor were all found asleep in the sand down below the city. The girl is one of the worst characters ever known here, and was recently arrested here for immorality, and then it was thought she was crazy. Her home was formerly in Golconda, or some other Illinois town, but just where was never known, as the police were unable to learn anything definite about her when she was arrested before.

The youths found with her by the police this morning were fined: Cosby, the oldest, $20 and costs—Taylor and McConnell $10 each. The girl was fined $20 and sent to jail for thirty days, and the court said he would require her to give a $100 bond for her good behavior when her time expires. She became so boisterous in the court room she had to be sent to the lockup before court was over this morning.

NOT M'FALL.

Fulton Rapist Still at Large—False Alarm From Illinois.

Matthew McFall, the negro wanted in Fulton for criminally assaulting the 1-year-old daughter of Mr. L. E. Clapp, is still at large, and it appears he made good his escape.

He has been captured in the imagination several times, but the suspect always proved to be somebody else, so many of the colored people answering the same description.

The last capture was made at Mounds Hill, Saturday, and he also proved to be the wrong man.

HARMLESS RUNAWAY.

A wagon with several pieces of furniture in it was pulled at a rapid gait by two miles on North Sixth street about 8 o'clock this morning. It belonged to J. L. Jones, the furniture man, and the animals, after the contents of the wagon had had several close escapes from total annihilation, ran up on the sidewalk and stopped, no damage having resulted.

WAS PROBABLY MURDERED.

Marshal Collins this morning received a letter from the authorities at Big Stone Gap, Va., stating that a man was found dead there, and is supposed to have been murdered.

There was nothing by which he could be identified except a letter from Paducah, written while the writer was in the Illinois Central hospital, and signed "Prest." The dead man was father of Mr. Preston Bukey, of the city, and had not been here for eight or ten years. Mr. Bukey fell from a window last January and broke several ribs, and was taken to the I. C. hospital, where he wrote the letter. He now works at the I. C. shops.

Marshal Collins will write the facts to the Virginia authorities.

LUCK CORNELIUS HAD A GUN

Luck Cornelius was out near the I. C. "Y" this morning at an early hour when he turned and saw two police officers nearby. He ran but was overtaken and a pistol was found in his pocket. He was locked up and his gun was taken.

He was informed by the officers that he carried the pistol for no particular purpose. He was fined $25 and sent to jail for ten days.
